THURSDAYS IN JUNE

June 6, 13, 20, and 27, 1996
7 to 9 p.m.

Concurrent with the exhibition Mr. Dead & Mrs. Free: The History of Squat Theatre (held over to July 13), Artists Space presents Thursdays in June, a series consisting of performances, readings, and an open call to video artists. With exhibitions, film, video, performance, and readings year round, Artists Space brings together new and exciting artists and ideas from the broadest cultural mix, and continues to discover the leading artists of tomorrow. Come join us on the following nights:

Thursday, June 6: Barry Yourgrau reads strange new stories.
"Cinematism," a lecture by Andras Halasz

Thursday, June 13: Novelists Susan Daitch and Catherine Texier read from new works and Gravity & Grace, a new movie by Chris Kraus

Thursday, June 20: A performance by Peter Halasz's Love Theater

Thursday, June 27: Open Call to Video Artists, viewed by John Hanhardt, film and video curator at the Whitney Museum. Sign-in from 5-6 p.m.; begins at 6:30. First come, first shown. (10 min. max.) Cash bar.

In addition, on Saturdays, June 8 and 15, 4 to 6 p.m. original Squat Theatre movies (16mm) will be shown.
